

The month that was!

July, 2017

MADAM SARA MATHEW MEMORIAL MEDICAL CAMP-2017

25th July, 2017

- “Every year, in the memory of our beloved founder late Mrs. Sara Mathew, we organise a medical camp in the slum community of Mohammadpur village. This year too we had the cam and the experience was amazing. The students of class 7 did a street play the previous day to spread awareness on sanitation, health and stressed on the need for action and they informed the community about the medical camp . When we were helping the poor patients access this health facility, we felt a warm feeling in our heart. The people gave a great response and we all together put up a great show. The patients who came blessed us and the doctors for addressing their health needs free of cost.

There were altogether 83 patients, we observed that most of them suffered from skin diseases, stomach problems and malnutrition.”

by Shubhi Gupta, 9

GST AND WOMEN

- Class 8 CSA group designed posters protesting against GST imposition on Sanitary Napkins(SNs) and they surveyed the women in the community about their awareness and reactions on this government move.
- The students reported that, out of 12 women they interviewed, half of them shared that they did not use the branded SNs rather used cloth, four women were unaware of the tax imposition and while two shared that they condemn the move strongly and will join the national campaign and file petitions.

CONSTITUTION AND CITIZENRY RIGHT TO INFORMATION

- As a part of the constitution and citizenry program for the CSA group, class 6 and 8 researched about the Right to Information Act , they are developing a quiz for the schooling community with the view of empowering us for using RTI as an affection tool for social action.
- Do participate in the quiz to win some toffees in the coming days!

IAYP-COMMUNITY SERVICE

- The community service group of IAYP has taken up urban farming as the initiative this semester; in continuation with our work around farmers and farming, the group has taken up Urban Farming with the agenda of “Lets Grow Food”.
- In this regard, they visited two parks in the different blocks of SJE and mobilised the community to grow food.
- The group will continue to have door to door campaign and community meetings with more blocks in SJE and in Mohammadpur especially to guide the disadvantaged communities to look at Urban Farming as a livelihood option.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Hera Aquil, Tanya Jain and Lakshi Phogat have been awarded the prestigious Gold Award by IAYP Award Foundation.

Retika, Bhavya Vaish, Deepti Ghosh, Rhythm Ohri, Mehak Kauhsik, Manvi Singhal, Chaitanya and Devanshi Sharma were awarded Silver Medal.

Jyoti Kumari, Kaustabh Gaur, Naina and Rajkumar qualified for the elementary Bronze Medal.

JOIN US!

- As we know the farmers from different parts of the country are protesting against adverse government policies, we look forward to join them through Hunger Project.
- While class X-C will be facilitating the food distribution at Jantar Mantar on that day, we invite any interested student/staff to join us on the day at 9:00 am on 4th, August, 2017.