THE MONTH THAT WAS!

OCTOBER REVOLUTION!

October 2017 marks the centenary celebrations of the bolsheviks revolution which overthrew the tyrannical Cars of Russia from power and reinstated the first communist government in the world.

The students read and discussed about the revolution in 1917 and they drew parallels to what is happening now. There were assertions by the children on the basis of how the deprivations exist in the present times, nevertheless we do not resent or dissent or raise our voice against it.

“...I thing we need to gather courage as the Bolsheviks to fight against right to all those things which we are denied of.” -
Tanushk, VI

Spaces within Spaces

In order to understand how cities are formed, students talking to residents of Mohammadpur basti and Azad nagar basti. They developed. A timeline to talk further on this issue. The methods used were Focussed Group Discussion.

‘...a person at the chaupal said that initially people form Munirka came here to set up his family and he started farming in this are.’-
Nishchay

The students probed into the memory on setting up the place and tried to ascertain the history of the place using some historical evidences available on the internet.

The idea of the exercise was to help students understand that Delhi did not belong to one community, it is a mosaic model and a perfect example of pluralism. There are reason why people set up or started residing in particular corners/pockets of the community.
